ABOUT DEV DRAFT

Devdraft is empowering a new generation of businesses to operate without borders.

We are building the financial infrastructure for a borderless world.

Devdraft is a global fintech company reimagining how money moves across borders. We build modern payment infrastructure that enables businesses and individuals to send, receive, store, and manage money globally, instantly and securely. Our platform combines stablecoin technology with traditional financial rails to eliminate delays, reduce costs, and unlock access to global markets.

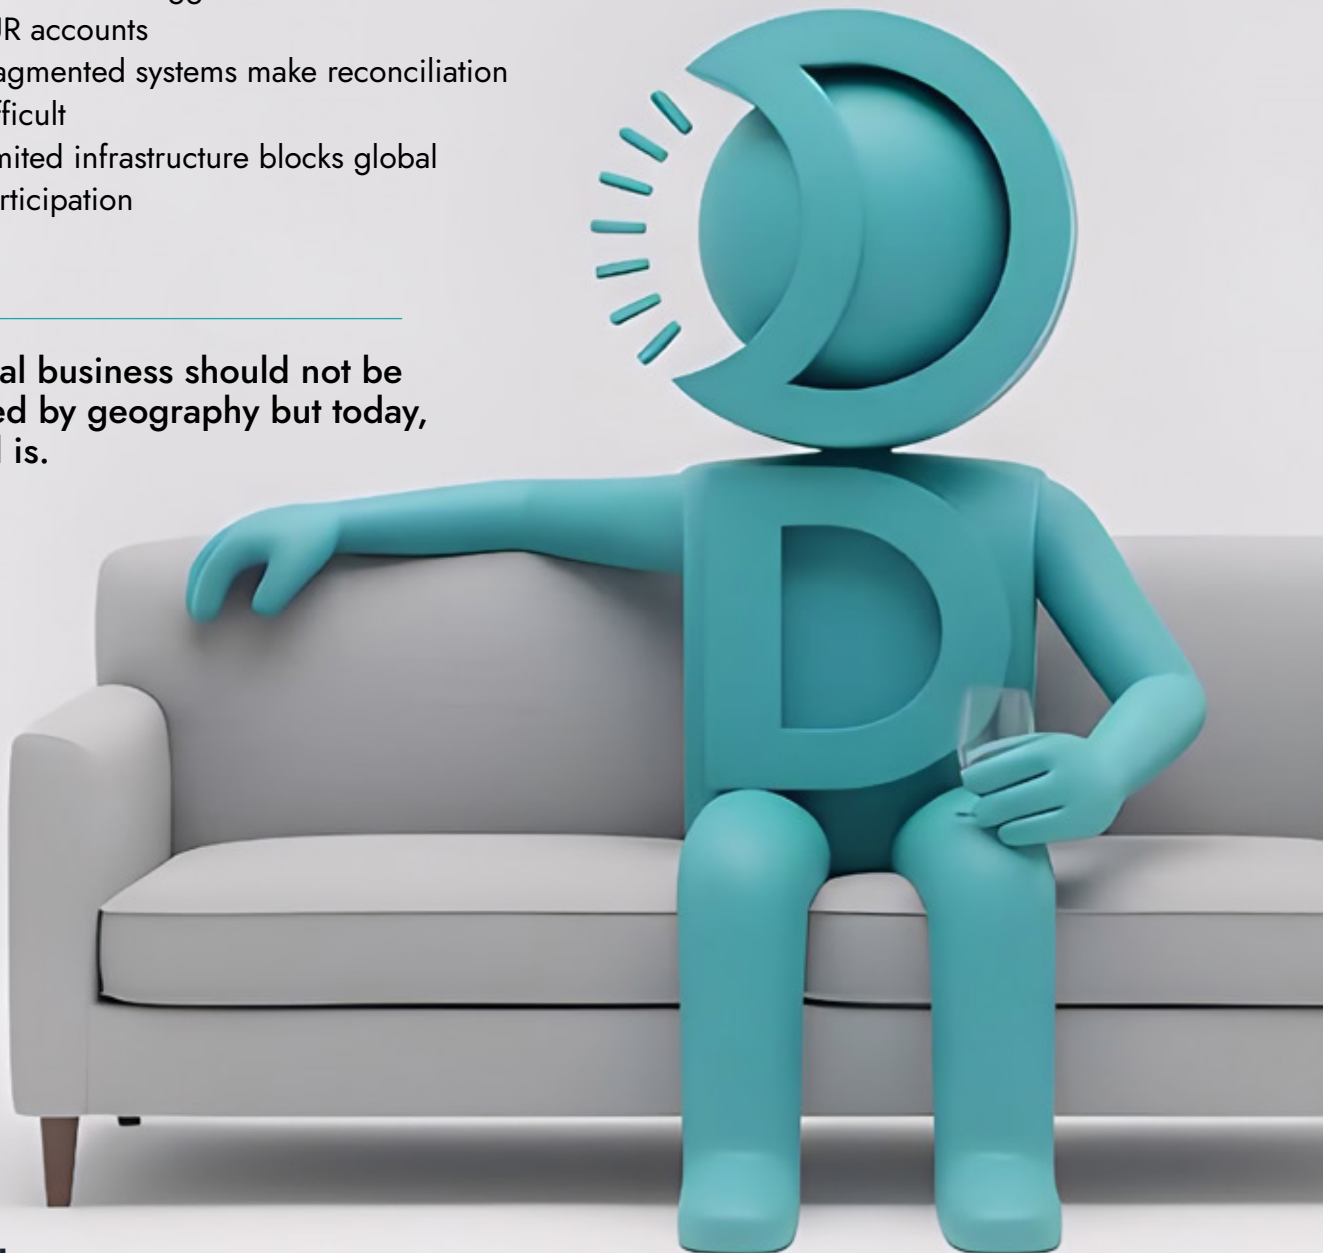

THE PROBLEM

Cross-border payments are still broken.

Across emerging markets, moving money globally remains slow, expensive, and restrictive.

- Payments take days instead of seconds
- Fees eat into business margins
- Businesses struggle to access USD and EUR accounts
- Fragmented systems make reconciliation difficult
- Limited infrastructure blocks global participation

Global business should not be limited by geography but today, it still is.

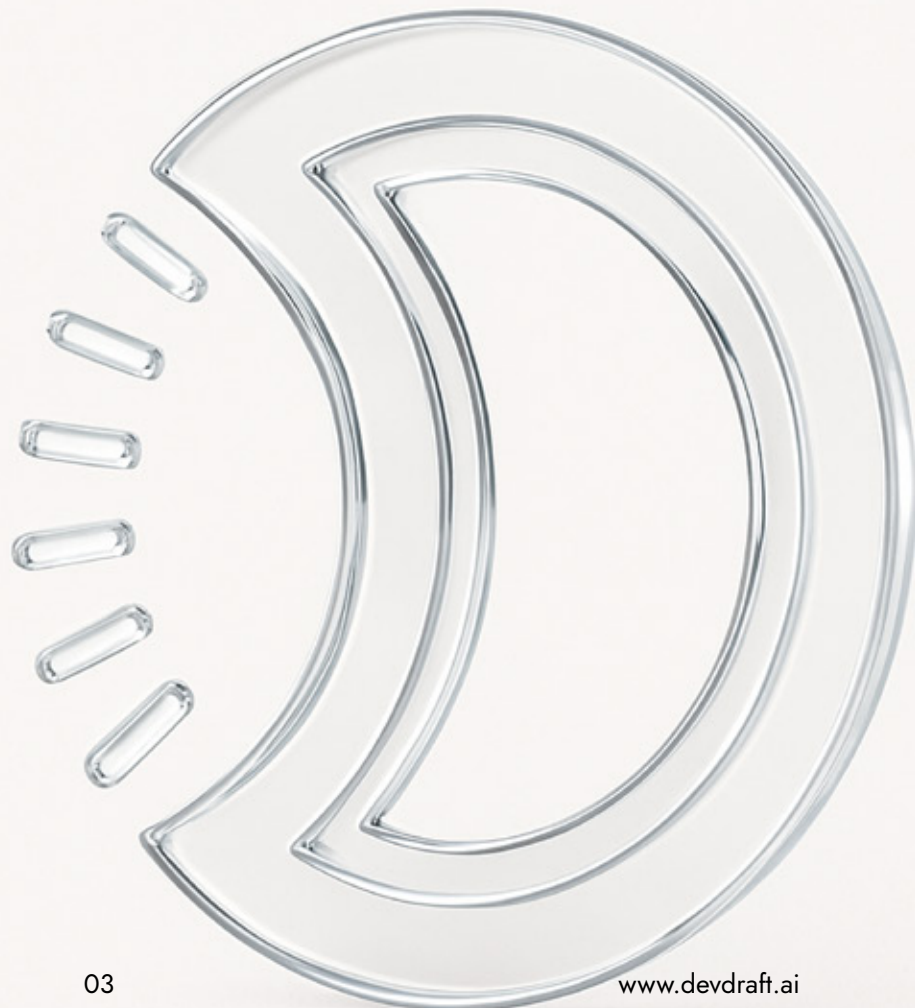

OUR SOLUTION

A global financial system rebuilt for speed, access, and scale.

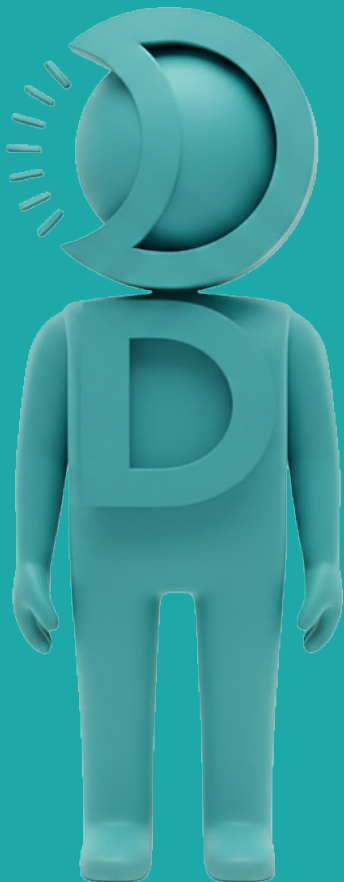

Devdraft provides a unified payments infrastructure that bridges stablecoins and fiat systems giving users the ability to operate globally from anywhere.

- Instant global payments
- Virtual USD & EUR accounts
- Stablecoin-powered settlement
- API-first infrastructure for businesses
- Seamless on/off-ramping between crypto and fiat

We don't just move money, we unlock global financial participation.
